

Wiki Assignment

Wikis are free, Web 2.0 applications that promote a number of instructional activities (collaboration, communication, participation, creativity, etc.). They can be teacher or student generated. The wiki you create for this assignment will function as a personal portfolio for this course. You will create pages for each of your assignments and place each assignment on that page. This assignment will be assessed/graded periodically throughout the semester to make sure the required assignments have been added correctly.

Requirements

- o The wiki has an appropriate name.
- o A relevant picture has been added to the front page.
- o Theme/color has been customized
- o A page has been created for each of the assignments.
- o If/when appropriate, hyperlink to assignments (assignments)
- o All relevant documents are attached (assignments)
- o Security is set for "Protected"
- o You have invited me to join your wiki

Mechanics

- o Correct Spelling
- o Correct Grammar
- o Correct Punctuation

Written Assignment

In writing, address the following: Identify a SPECIFIC lesson/activity that a wiki could be used in your present classroom (where possible, this should be STUDENT-CENTERED). How does your use of the wiki meet KYTS 6? How does your use of the wiki meet the NETS*T? Using the assigned articles (research) or additional readings, give a rationale for using the wiki in your classroom OR for why a wiki could not be used in your classroom. Following the guidelines for written materials on your syllabus, turn a copy of this into me.
